Landlords and Rents

Letters to the editor which do not bear the name of the writer, even though that name is not to be published, cannot be accepted by this paper. One which will not appear, because the writer merely signed it "a tenant", was received today but it presents one phase of the lifting of price control which needs attention.

The writer says his landlady has given notice of an increase in rent starting the first day of July, although the tenant holds a receipt for payment to a date beyond July 1. Either pay the difference from the first to the date of the receipt or the tenant will be charged an additional $5 a day until he does, or can move, is the edict of this landlady, according to the writer. As if this weren't enough, the landlady is charged by the tenant with saying that President Truman has done this.

All of this sounds too fantastic to be true. But if it is true and the tenant wants a layman's advice, our suggestion is that he sit still and let her try to collect. We believe the courts still recognize that paid up receipts mean what they say. As for blaming rent raises on the President, the landlady is either woefully ignorant or thinks everybody else is.

Some landlords in Salem, as elsewhere, took advantage of the situation the moment OPA died. They couldn't wait to slap on increases, many of them entirely out of reason. They are the greedy kind, demanding more money merely because they know they can get it. On the other hand, many property owners are entitled to rent increases, especially if they have been keeping their properties in repair at today's prices. But the wise landlord will not be too hasty in upping rents. There might be a day of reckoning.

Absolutely No Hunting

There may be good stuff in the latest brainstorm of H. G. Wells—that the British royal family has been plotting and therefore should be exiled to a royal game preserve in the United States "where the people appear hungry for uniforms and titles."

Americans are not qualified to discuss the possible plotting which Mr. Wells has detected, but they can see merit in creating a refuge for unemployed royalty, in fact for all political talent temporarily at liberty.

Under this plan of segregation, the people never would need to wonder where their political strong boys and girls were going to turn up next. There would be only one place on earth where they could turn up at all without being disposed of promptly. That would be in the American political game preserve.

It would be handy not only for tiding over unemployed foreign talent, but for keeping our own in-room and board during the hiatus. Every dispossessed ruler can return to power if he can wait out the cycle of foolish events that always brings the public back where it started from in politics. With the certainty of security in a snug refuge in America, no political figure would need to line his pockets, or try to hasten his re-employment with counter-revolution. There are a thousand places in the United States where the natives are "hungry for uniforms and titles." On Mr. Wells' request, postage prepaid, a list of 999 will be furnished, complete with names and addresses.

Only The Beginning

The World War II peace conference, which so often has seemed so impossibly remote, is finally scheduled. Thus the first big step toward official peace and recovery is about to be made. But there is every likelihood that this will be only one step on a long and difficult journey.

In our own country's history, there are two rather discouraging precedents. The Revolutionary War, which ended for all practical purposes with Cornwallis' surrender in October, 1781, did not come to a formal end until January, 1784.

In World War I, Congress did not ratify the peace treaties with Germany and Austria until almost three years after Armistice Day—Oct. 18, 1921, to be exact.

The problems confronting the forthcoming conference may not be the most complicated territorially. But it is unlikely that the chief powers at a peace table have ever been more contentious, even though the history of military alliances shows that they tend to break up rapidly once their common enemy is defeated.

Thus it would seem that the spectators awaiting the beginning of the postwar era of signed and sealed peace would be wise to bring their lunches and their campstools, and prepare for a good long wait.

More Atomic Evils

The atomic age, besides scaring the human race half out of its wits, has sown a crop of corny catchwords which in itself is a dreadfully wearisome, though minor, menace.

First it was the puns on atom and atomic, and the pictures of young women in bathing suits labeled "Atomic Blondes." Then there were the business establishments with new nuclear names—the Atomic Sportswear, Atomic Extremator, Atomic This-and-That companies.

And now Operation Crossroads has started a new fad. To some caption writers and head writers of our own noble profession, the preface Operation is apparently considered the final word in cleverness. The other day, for instance, we saw a picture of some girls starting off to help somebody pick his berry crop. The caption, of course, was "Operation Raspberry."

Now this thing has gone about far enough. We keep hoping the fad will wear itself out. But perhaps the safe thing would be for Mr. Baruch to attach some sort of a prohibitive rider onto his plan for safe disposition of the atom. That much of an abridgment of press freedom we'll be happy to support.

Footnote On Inflation

Considerable point has been made of the honesty of volunteer searchers who returned about $43,725 of the $44,000 dropped from a train and scattered along the track at Libertyville, Ill. We should like to join our voice in the praise of these upright citizens, but with the slightly discordant suggestion that the occasion didn't offer a very good test.

Now, if $44,000 worth of steak or butter or nylons had been strewn along the right of way and only $275 worth had turned up missing, that would really have been impressive.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Self-Confidence Overcomes Stammering

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

BECAUSE stammering or stuttering can be an agonizingly embarrassing handicap, much study has been devoted to its cause and cure.

Even so, doctors are still unable to give one definite answer to the question of why certain individuals seem unable to speak fluently, but must eternally trip and stumble over certain syllables.

Certain facts, however, stand out about the stutterer. He is likely to be a self-conscious type of person, emotional, shy and sensitive, and it is believed that he is also suffering from one or other of the many kinds of fear. Strangely enough, he rarely has trouble when he sings talks in his sleep or to himself when alone.

Relaxation The Key

All of these things suggest that relaxation is the key to treatment and it has, in fact, been proved that when a feeling of calmness can be built up in the person who stutters, his stuttering may disappear.

It is important to build up the stammerer's self-confidence. According to Dr. P. Henderson of England, the child or adult who stutters must be made to understand that he can be cured only by his own efforts, and that the physician or specialist in speech disturbances can merely encourage him.

Conversation, word games and hobbies may be used in the treatment to help give the stammerer self-confidence. If a child who stammers has a severe emotional disturbance special treatment by a specialist in such disorders may be necessary.

It is suggested that treatment of the stammerer be given at least twice a week and it may be helpful to treat several children in a group rather than each child alone. It may take several years to bring about a cure and in more than one-half of the cases the condition may recur.

Other Disturbances

Of course, there are speech disturbances other than stammering. One of these is known as dyslalia. In this condition the child is unable to properly pronounce the consonants, such as l, r, s, and z. One form is lisping in which such letters as "s" and "z" are replaced by the sound "th."

A lisp may be due merely to negligence in teaching the child to talk properly. It may be due to some nervous disturbance and in some cases too an abnormal condition of the jaw, the roof of the mouth or the teeth.

Another form of dyslalia is called lalling. In this disorder the sound is substituted for "r". This, too, is due to about the same factors as lisping.

Rhinolalia refers to nasal speech. This may be due to weakness in the muscles in the palate or roof of the mouth, the blocking of the nose by small tumors called polyps or by enlarged adenoids. Sometimes even following the removal of the adenoids the nasal speech may remain because of weakness of the palate muscles.

Special breathing exercises will help correct this condition.

A child with speech difficulties is handicapped and every effort should be made to overcome them promptly.

Relaxation is the key. All of these things suggest that relaxation is the key to treatment and it has, in fact, been proved that when a feeling of calmness can be built up in the person who stutters, his stuttering may disappear.

It is important to build up the stammerer's self-confidence. According to Dr. P. Henderson of England, the child or adult who stutters must be made to understand that he can be cured only by his own efforts, and that the physician or specialist in speech disturbances can merely encourage him.

Conversation, word games and hobbies may be used in the treatment to help give the stammerer self-confidence. If a child who stutters has a severe emotional disturbance special treatment by a specialist in such disorders may be necessary.

It is suggested that treatment of the stammerer be given at least twice a week and it may be helpful to treat several children in a group rather than each child alone. It may take several years to bring about a cure and in more than one-half of the cases the condition may recur.

Of course, there are speech disturbances other than stammering. One of these is known as dyslalia. In this condition the child is unable to properly pronounce the consonants, such as l, r, s, and z. One form is lisping in which such letters as "s" and "z" are replaced by the sound "th."

A lisp may be due merely to

"Outwears Prewar Tires!" Those magic words have made the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown tire the most wanted tire on the market — because those words state an honest fact conclusively proven by millions of miles of carefully recorded tests and millions more miles of consumer driving!

What does the new B.F. Goodrich tire have? It has B.F. Goodrich's own "road level" tread to give you more rubber to share the wear...more tread to stop on...more traction to hug the curves. It has tougher cords and more of 'em to give it a far stronger body.

Even at high speeds, the new Silvertown OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

"Outwears Prewar Tires!" Those magic words have made the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown the most wanted tire on the market—because those words state an honest fact conclusively proven by millions of miles of carefully recorded tests and millions more miles of consumer driving!

What does the new B.F. Goodrich tire have? It has B.F. Goodrich's own "road level" tread to give you more rubber to share the wear...more tread to stop on...more traction to hug the curves. It has tougher cords and more of 'em to give it a far stronger body.

Even at high speeds, the new Silvertown OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

• SO THEY SAY

The spirit of religion has a potential force as great as that used by other agencies. We have not given it an opportunity.

—Dr. Charles Wesley, president Wilberforce U.

There is a field of opportunity for women in local affairs. They must be interested in all community problems, but there are some they are better able to deal with, such as education, hospital service and infant and child welfare.

—Alice Bacon, British M. P.

The American people will be forced to resort to strike if that is necessary to prevent inflation. —Dr. Alonzo F. Myers of New York.

When a couple marry, not people but eight people stand before the altar. There is the intellectual person, the social temper, the physical being and a spiritual creature in each party. The marriage. Each must maintain harmony with the other in all the aspects of personality.

—Methodist Bishop Schupler of Madison, Wis.

If the 85,000,000 holders of a currency securities can be made conscious of their power, they become infinitely more powerful.

—Emil Schram, president National Stock Exchange.

There are some people who claim that the atomic bomb now makes obsolete. That has been claimed for every other new weapon from the smooth-bore gun to the armor-piercing shell.

—Admiral Nimitz

Unless entirely unforeseen events occur, we believe the employment situation will continue to improve.

HIS 'WALKING BOOTS' BANKBOOK

JIMMIE CECIL FORTNER, 2-year-old Seattle boy who was born without feet and now walks on artificial legs, doesn't know his bank book represents the start of a fund to help pay for what he calls his "walking boots." But learning to count, he smiles as he recognizes "5" in the $50 deposit by McKales service station attendants, who are joining friends and neighbors of the tiny lad in providing a fund for the purchase of the artificial limbs which will need adjusting every six months until Jimmie is full grown. Predicts Army of 800,000 Men Testifying before the House Military Affairs Committee in Washington, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, right, predicted a peacetime U. S. Army of not less than 800,000 men for the next 15 or 20 years. He's shown with Committee Chairman Andrew J. May. General Eisenhower urged passage of legislation to increase from 25,000 to 50,000 the number of regular Army officers.

FIRST FAMILY OF FRANCE

THESE ARE THE LATEST PORTRAITS OF Georges Bidault, new president of France, and his wife, Suzanne Borel Bidault. When Bidault as foreign minister married last year, it was the first time in history that a minister married the director of his cabinet. In November, 1942, during the German occupation, Mme. Bidault went to Vichy where she established liaison with the Algiers government and under the name of "Suzy" was head of the National Council of Resistance in France. Following V-E day and until her marriage, she was a career diplomat at Quai D'Orsay. (International)

HOW U. S. DEBT TRIPLED

THIS CHART graphically illustrates the trend of public and private debt over the last thirty years. Today the Federal debt is almost twice as large as all other debts combined—corporations, mortgages, and state and local governments. At the end of 1945, the gross Federal debt was estimated at $273.7 billions, according to daily U. S. Treasury statement, which means that the Government owed $2 out of every $3 of the nation's debt. Starting in 1919, when the Government owed 22¢ of every debt dollar, the picture slowly changed as Federal reductions were made by nearly two-fifths. A new low was reached in 1930 when the debt was brought down to 10¢ of every debt dollar. Deficit spending in the 30s and the cost of the war brought on the present government high of 66¢ of every dollar owed. (International)

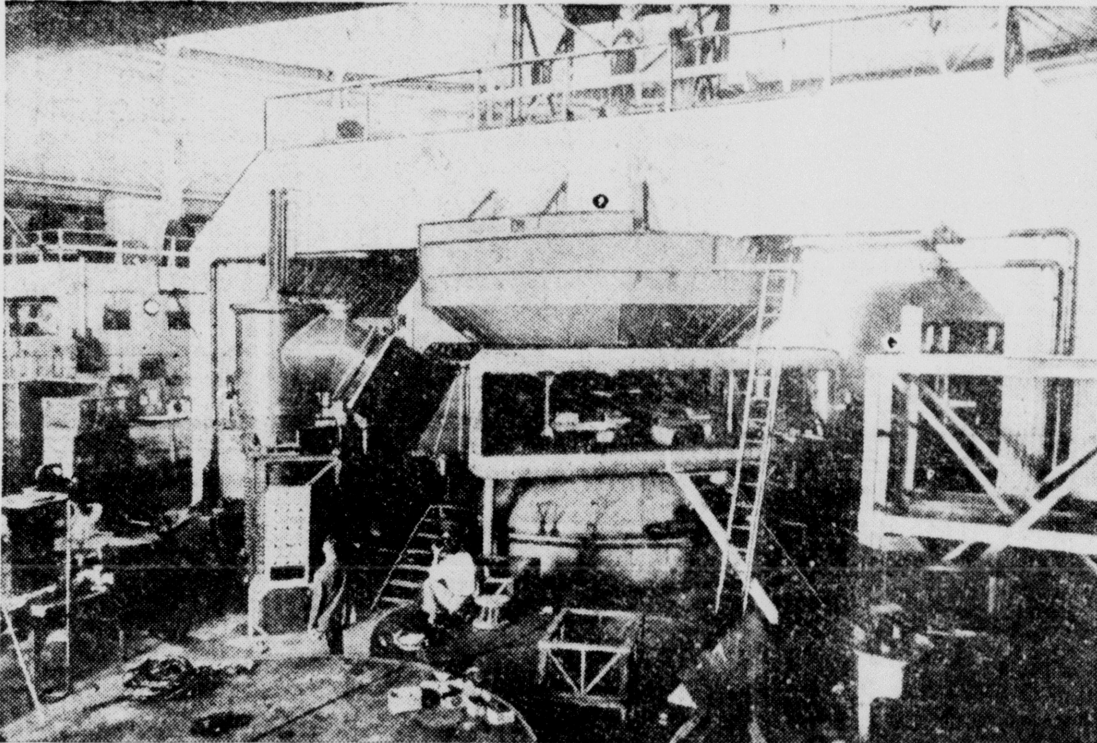

SAGA OF THE SHIP THAT WON'T DIE

OUR NAVAL ANNALS are filled with sagas of gallant, battered fighting ships that refused to go down. To this honored list historians have added the venerable battleship Nevada, target in the first atomic bomb test at Bikini. The thirty-year-old, war-wounded craft suffered heavy damage in the blast, but still remains afloat. Ordered in 1912, the Nevada was launched in 1914 and commissioned in 1916. With other fleet units she served on convoy and patrol duty during the first World War. Seconds after World War II began for the U. S., the old battlewagon was ripped by Jap bombs at Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, and beached by her crew. She was repaired and back in service in late 1942. Her first taste of revenge came in April 1943 when, for four days, she risked fog and reefs in Massacre Bay to pound the Japs on Attu. She navigated, according to her commander, "by the grace of God and good fortune." Transferred to the Atlantic, the warship did convoy duty from Sept. 1943 to April 1944. On D-Day, June 6, 1944, she began blasting holes in Nazi coast defenses in Normandy. Her crew remained at battle stations for eighty hours; more than 2,200 fourteen-inch shells and 5,000 five-inch shells smashed enemy concentrations in the first four invasion hours. The 32,000-ton dreadnaught moved to Cherbourg Peninsula to support land forces and then to the Mediterranean to aid in the southern invasion of Europe. Although she took part in every major amphibious operation on the continent, not one man aboard was lost. She came home for overhauling and then steamed to the Pacific. A Kamikaze plane struck her March 27, 1945 while she was shelling Jap installations on Okinawa, but she returned to action after four hours. The next week, Jap shore guns scored five hits on the Nevada but her damage was repaired overnight and she went back into battle. When the war ended, she wore service ribbons on her bridge which included the Purple Heart, World War I Victory Medal, Pre-Pearl Harbor, Pacific Theatre, American Theatre, and the European-African-Middle East Theatre. Selected as the target among the array of ships in Bikini Lagoon, the "old fighting lady" was damaged above the water line but refused to sink in the first atomic test. She will go down in history as one of the toughest and most gallant U. S. warships ever to roam the seas. (International)

'Flying Wing' Bomber Takes the Air

The Northrop Flying Wing XB-35, world's largest bomber, takes off at Hawthorne, Calif., on its first test flight. It landed 45 minutes later.

"Glass," made when heat from an atom bomb fused sand of the New Mexico desert, in July, 1945, test gives off radioactive waves. After 34 hours' exposure, the film was developed and showed a picture of the "glass," taken by its own radioactive rays, with the black shadow of the key in sharp silhouette.

3 Little Bears

Two Were Black and One (Left) was Blue — and One Went and Hid in the Corner (Right)

When Goldilocks—and a lot or other people, too, of course—went to the Bronx Zoo in New York the other day, they found there were three brand new little bears. There were two little girl bears, named Alice and Martha, and a little boy bear, named George. That's George in the middle in the picture below, showing off for the visitors, while Alice, left, and Martha pretend they don't care. But nobody paid much attention to George because they were so excited about Alice. She has silvery-blue fur, and nobody has ever seen a blue bear in a zoo before except in the National Zoological park in Washington, and that was 29 years ago. So, naturally, she had to pose for her picture, which you see at left, George, who's just plain black like Martha, was so disgusted he climbed up into a corner of the cage (right photo) and glared at everybody.

Leetonia Edges Mullins, 7-5, In Tight American Loop Tilt

Crescents Hit In The Clutch To Knock Off Leaders; Sinclair Tramples Tailend Vets 6 To 1

Leetonia closed up the American league race some when they out-fought and out-hit the loop leading Mullins club to win 7-5 before a large crowd at Centennial park Tuesday night.

Sinclair's improving team clipped the VFW for their 13th straight loss in the other league tilt by a 6-1 score.

The Crescents spotted Mullins' four runs in the second inning and it looked as though they were to lose. However, they drew on their magic hitting power with men on the bases to close fast in the late innings and win.

Mike Oana, Mullins' second baseman, put his club in front in the second with a long triple with the bases jammed and then scored the fourth run himself on Mike Guappone's grounder. He also pumped two singles to lead the losers at the plate.

Leetonia came back with one each in the third, fourth and fifth. Then in the sixth, with two out they cracked out four consecutive singles which, combined with a costly error by Vince Dominetti, gave them three runs and the ball game.

Both teams added unimportant runs in the seventh.

Neil Kedemver and Guy Belmonto collected a pair of hits each to lead the Crescents. John Pukalski maced two for Mullins.

The victory moved Leetonia ahead of the Ohio Grill on percentage points, but tied in games.

Sinclair featured a new pitcher, Tom Houlette, on the mound Tuesday, and he came through in fine shape, holding the Vets to six hits and narrowly missing a shutout.

The addition of Bob "Rock" Ritchie, back in Salem for the summer, gave the Oilers a much-needed lift and provided them with one of the best in-felds in either league. He and Don "Sal" Freed clicked on a beautiful double play in the second inning that left nothing to be desired.

Bob Miller's league leading batting mark slipped to 423 Tuesday, but his nearest rival, Pat Mancuso of Leetonia, did no better and fell to 442.

The game did nothing to change the standings, but strengthened the Sinclair's grip on sixth place.

Nelson Favored To Take Chicago Open

CHICAGO, July 17. — Bizarre Ben Hogan, just like the lowly cuffer, is having putter trouble and so his arch rival Ben Nelson, is favored in the $10,000 Chicago Victory National Golf tournament opening today at exacting Medinah Country club.

Hogan, golf's leading money winner with a 1945 take of $25,214, has been a feeble also ran in his last two starts and plainly has putting jitters.

It dates back to a costly 16-inch miss in the Augusta Masters and an equally distressing 32-inch fizzle in the U.S. Open. Hogan, long regarded as the perfection poet of Nelson, now is testing new putters in desperate fashion and forgetting his practice tee shots for long sojourns on the putting violet.

In the same tourneys in which Hogan was just another swinger—the Columbus, O., and Kansas City outings—Nelson averaged 69 for eight rounds. Little Ben had an average of 71 for the same eight round whir.

All of which points to a repeat triumph for Nelson in the Victory Open which starts Friday following a two day session of 36-hole scrapping for pro, amateur, pro-amateur and pro-senior titles over the grueling No. 3 course at Medinah.

Nelson, who won the 1945 Victory Open at Culmett club with a 13 under par 275 for 72 holes, is bracketed in ostensibly the strongest foursome for the combination competition today and tomorrow.

Also in Lord Byron's troupe are Frank Stranahan, Toledo, amateur who won the $20,000 Kansas City Invitational last week end; Betty Jameson, former women's champion and veteran; Chuck Evans, who last year teamed with Nelson for the pro-senior title.

Gradys Outslug JAC; Washingtonville Win

Washingtonville won its third game of the second round in Class B Tuesday night by whipping St. Pauls 9-1 at Reilly field, while the other tilt went to Gradys over Jennings A. C. 12-10.

Pitcher Alexander limited Bineville to one safety, but walks and errors permitted the winner to get their runs. Murphy, winning hurler, got his team's only hit.

"Little" Faulkner and Mosher each collected two hits for the losers.

A five run rally in the sixth won for Gradys.

Culberson of Gradys allowed Jennings 10 hits, while his team got to Snater for 11. Leading hitters for Gradys were Brudery, Monteleone and Hollinger, each with two. Dougherty and Popovich notched three for four to pace Jennings.

Ritchie Twirls Four-Hitter To Stop Recreation; Homer By Nick Zamarelli Clips Saxons

The Salem China, behind four-hit pitching by Dale Ritchie, defeated the Recreation 7-2 and pulled up to within one game of Demings in the tight National league race in a game at Centennial park Tuesday night.

In the other tilt, the Italian A. C. jumped to fourth in the loop by whipping the Saxons 6-3.

Leetonia Edges Mullins, 7-5, In Tight American Loop Tilt

Crescents Hit In The Clutch To Knock Off Leaders; Sinclair Tramples Tailend Vets 6 To 1

Leetonia closed up the American league race some when they out-fought and out-hit the loop leading Mullins club to win 7-5 before a large crowd at Centennial park Tuesday night.

Sinclair's improving team clipped the VFW for their 13th straight loss in the other league tilt by a 6-1 score.

The Crescents spotted Mullins four runs in the second inning and it looked as though they were to lose. However, they drew on their magic hitting power with men on the bases to close fast in the late innings and win.

Mike Oana, Mullins second baseman, put his club in front in the second with a long triple with the bases jammed and then scored the fourth run himself on Mike Guappone's grounder. He also pumped two singles to lead the losers at the plate.

Leetonia came back with one each in the third, fourth and fifth. Then in the sixth, with two out they cracked out four consecutive singles which, combined with a costly error by Vince Dominetti gave them three runs and the ball game.

Both teams added unimportant runs in the seventh.

Neil Kegelmeyer and Guy Belmont collected a pair of hits each to lead the Crescents. John Pukalski maced two for Mullins.

The victory moved Leetonia ahead of the Ohio Grill on percentage points, but tied in games.

Sinclair featured a new pitcher, Tom Houlette, on the mound Tuesday, and he came through in fine shape, holding the Vets to six hits and narrowly missing a shutout.

The addition of Bob "Buck" Ritchie, back in Salem for the summer, gave the Oilers a much-needed lift and provided them with one of the best infields in either league. He and Ben "Sal" Freed clicked on a beautiful double play in the second inning that left nothing to be desired.

Bob Miller's league leading batting mark slipped to .483 Tuesday, but his nearest rival, Pat Mancuso of Leetonia, did no better and fell to .448.

The game did nothing to change the standings, but strengthened the Sinclair's grip on sixth place.

Nelson Favored To Take Chicago Open

CHICAGO, July 17. — Blazing Ben Hogan, just like the lowly duffer, is having putter trouble and so his arch rival, Byron Nelson, is favored in the $10,000 Chicago Victory National Golf tournament opening today at exacting Medinah Country club.

Hogan, golf's leading money winner with a 1946 take of $25,214, has been a feeble also ran in his last two starts and plainly has putting jitters.

It dates back to a costly 18-inch miss in the Augusta Masters and an equally distressing 32 inch fizzle in the U.S. Open. Hogan, long regarded as the perfection poster in desperate fashion and forgetting his practice tee shots for long sojourns on the putting velvet.

In the same tourneys in which Hogan was just another swinger—the Columbus, O., and Kansas City outings—Nelson averaged 69 for eight rounds. Little Ben had an average of 71 for the same eight round whirl.

All of which points to a repeat triumph for Nelson in the Victory Open which starts Friday following a two day session of 36-hole scrapping for pro, amateur, pro-lady and pro-senior titles over the grueling No. 3 course at Medinah.

Nelson, who won the 1945 Victory Open at Calumet club with a 13 under par 275 for 72 holes, is bracketed in ostensibly the strongest foursome for the combination competition today and tomorrow.

Also in Lord Byron's troupe are Frank Stranahan, Toledo, amateur who won the $20,000 Kansas City Invitational last week end; Betty Jameson, former women's champion and veteran Chick Evans, who last year teamed with Nelson for the pro-senior title.

Ritchie Twirls Four-Hitter To Stop Recreation; Homer By Nick Zamarelli Clips Saxons

The Salem Chins, behind four-hit pitching by Dale Ritchie, defeated the Recreation 7-2 and pulled up to within one game of Demings in the tight National league race in a game at Centennial park Tuesday night.

In the other tilt, the Italian A. C. jumped to fourth in the loop by whipping the Saxons 6-3.

The Rees, playing with a strengthened lineup, gave the Chins a fight for six innings, as they trailed by but only one run. In the seventh, however, four singles by the Potters and a pair of errors by the Rees, tallied four runs for the Chins.

Ritchie gave up four knocks, two of which were by Ralph Moffett, struck out six and walked two. Leading hitters for the Chins were Ray McGaffie and Jack Lutz, who each punched out two hits.

The Italian A. C. called on their excitable manager, Nick Zamarelli, to win their game and he did. In the seventh inning, with a man on base, he punched out a double to score the tying run and send the game into extra innings.

Then in the ninth, with two men on, Zamarelli tied off on one of Marty Pauline's pitches and clouted it far over the center fielder's head for a four ply swat to win the game.

Bill Guappone held the Saxons to six hits, while his team got 11 off Pauline.

By virtue of their win, the IAC passes both the Saxons and Washingtonville and moves into fourth place in the loop. Thus the first four teams in the National are within three and one-half games of each other.

MIHALIOVIC PAYS WITH HIS LIFE

Former Chetnik Leader, 8
Followers Are Killed
By Firing Squad

(By Associated Press)
BELGRADE, July 17.—Gen. Draža Mihailovic, once acclaimed by the Allied world as the organizer of the Yugoslav resistance movement, died before a firing squad at dawn today—less than 48 hours after his conviction on charges of treason and collaboration with the Germans.

Eight other men who were convicted with the former Chetnik leader were executed at the same time.

The executions were carried out in a private military ceremony. The others executed were: Radoslav-Rade Radic, 56, former Chetnik unit commander; Milos Gitch, 36, Chetnik leader; Oskar Pavicic, 54, former Zagreb chief of police; Drago Yovanovic, 44, former chief of police of Belgrade; Yanashe-Tasa Dinc, 55, former minister of the interior in the puppet government of the late Premier Milan Nedic, who committed suicide last January by leaping from his jail cell.

Veljko Vasic, 54, medic minister of education; Djuro Dokic, 72, former minister of commerce; Kosta Musicki, 49, former aide-de-camp to King Peter.

13 Received Jail Terms

Mihailovic and 23 co-defendants were convicted last Monday. He and 10 others were sentenced to death, and the remaining 13 to prison terms ranging from 20 years to 18 months.

Two of those sentenced to death and eight of those sentenced to prison were convicted in absentia. The trial of the Serbian-born Chetnik leader and his fellow defendants began June 10, and was marked by partial "confessions" on the part of some of the principals. Mihailovic, however, maintained that he was innocent.

The Yugoslav government refused to allow U. S. fliers, who had been forced down in Yugoslavia, to testify that they owed their lives to Mihailovic and his Chetniks. Charges against Mihailovic included an allegation that his Chetniks attacked partisan forces led by Marshal Tito, now premier of Yugoslavia.

Secretary Tells Of Rep. May's Calls

WASHINGTON, July 17.—An attractive, red-haired former secretary of a midwest munitions combine testified today that Rep. May (D-Ky.) called its Washington office "two or three times" a week and that Senate Democratic Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) had telephoned on "several occasions."

This testimony marked the first time that Barkley's name has entered public hearings off the senate war investigating committee inquiring into the wartime operations of the munitions group. The witness was Mrs. Jean Bates, secretary at the group's Washington office from April 1945 until June of 1946.

She told the committee, in response to questions, that several high ranking army officers also had telephoned the office, among two identified in her testimony only as General Waite and General Porter.

She told the committee that among her superiors were Joseph Freeman, Louis Sarelis and Murray Garson. She testified that they had phoned May's office "several times a week."

May is chairman of the house military committee.

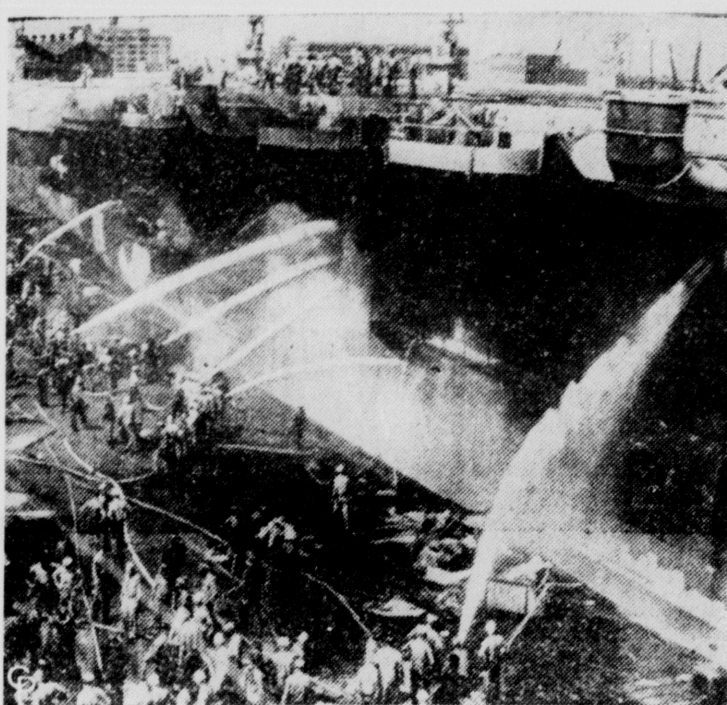

Before Miss Bates took the stand, Albert Jacobsen, a War department consultant, protested to the committee that he had been humiliated and maligned in the course of the committee hearings.

Damage to the vessels was placed at $100,000. (International)

Your GI Rights

Questions and Answers On
Problems of the Servicemen

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

Veterans who re-enlisted prior to July 1, and others who volunteered for service in the Army before that date, are entitled to the wartime dependency allotments for the full term of their enlistments.

But the dependents of anyone entering the Army after July 1 will receive the allotments only until six months after Congress and the President of the United States declare World War II officially ended.

Men actually in the Army can still enlist for a year, if they have already served six months. Veterans can re-enlist for periods of 18 months, two years, or three years.

The regular wartime dependency allotments are also available to men who are being inducted now. These allotments will be given to the families of the servicemen until six months after the statutory duration of the war. And there is no indication that Congress will legally end the war any time soon.

Today's Allotments

These are the present monthly allotments being paid dependents of men in service:

A wife gets $9; a first child, $30; and each additional child, $20.

For dependent children without a mother, $42 goes to the first child, $20 to each additional child. A divorced wife is eligible for $42 if no alimony is provided for in the decree. Otherwise, the amount set in the decree is paid.

For other dependents, including parents, who rely on the GI for their total or chief support, $30 is granted for one parent, $68 for two, and $11 for each brother or sister.

For substantial but not total or chief support, $37 is paid regardless of the number in the family.

Men being inducted into the service must take the initiative in applying for allotments. Allotments are never made retroactive in cases where the man fails to apply as soon as he is eligible.

Out of State Peaches

To Help Local Harvest

COLUMBUS, July 17.—The deficit in Ohio-grown peaches caused by spring frosts will be made up by liberal shipments from out-of-state growers, and peaches will be one fruit that will be plentiful for home and community canning, the U. S. Department of Agriculture "fact sheet" reports.

The peach crop from midwestern and northern states will move to market during August and early September.

Termites, popularly called white ants, are not even closely related to ants and the winged ones are not white.

awakened by the night clerk, found the halls filled with smoke and fashioned a chain of bed sheets to lower himself to safety from his fourth floor room.

City's Second Hotel Blaze

"I slid down the sheets onto an awning at first floor level," Ritter said, "and firemen helped me down from there."

Witnesses said they saw several guests jump from upper story windows. The hotel sits on a slope, which graduates it down to a four-story building in the rear.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage. The top floors of the hotel, the city's largest, were gutted by the blaze and three stores, a doctor's and a dentist's offices in the building were flooded with water.

It was Mount Vernon's second major hotel fire this year. The Winsor hotel, the city's second largest, has been closed since Jan. 8 because of fire damage.

FIGHT FIRE ON BABY FLATTOP

FIREMEN PUMP WATER on the burning baby flattop Manila Bay as she lies at her pier in the Boston Navy Yard. Starting in a rubbish pile on the docks, the wind-blown flames spread to the Manila Bay and the Marcus Island. Some 25 men aboard the "baby" narrowly escaped. Damage to the vessels was placed at $100,000. (International)

Questions and Answers On
Problems of the Servicemen

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

Veterans who re-enlisted prior to July 1, and others who volunteered for service in the Army before that date, are entitled to the wartime dependency allotments for the full term of their enlistments.

But the dependents of anyone entering the Army after July 1 will receive the allotments only until six months after Congress and the President of the United States declare World War II officially ended.

Men actually in the Army can still enlist for a year, if they have already served six months. Veterans can re-enlist for periods of 18 months, two years, or three years.

The regular wartime dependency allotments are also available to men who are being inducted now. These allotments will be given to the families of the servicemen until six months after the statutory duration of the war. And there is no indication that Congress will legally end the war any time soon.

Today's Allotments

These are the present monthly allotments being paid dependents of men in service:

A wife gets $50; a first child, $30; and each additional child, $20.

For dependent children without a mother, $42 goes to the first child, $20 to each additional child.

A divorced wife is eligible for $42, if no alimony is provided for in the decree. Otherwise, the amount set in the decree is paid.

For other dependents, including parents, who rely on the GI for their total or chief support, $50 is granted for one parent, $68 for two, and $11 for each brother or sister.

For substantial but not total or chief support, $37 is paid regardless of the number in the family.

FIRE ROUTS

City's Second Hotel Blaze

"I slid down the sheets onto an awning at first floor level," Ritter said, "and firemen helped me down from there."

Witnesses said they saw several guests jump from upper story windows. The hotel sits on a slope, which graduates it down to a four-story building in the rear.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage. The top floors of the hotel, the city's largest, were gutted by the blaze and three stores, a doctor's and a dentist's offices in the building were flooded with water.

It was Mount Vernon's second major hotel fire this year. The Windsor hotel, the city's second largest, has been closed since Jan. 8 because of fire damage.
